

Justification to accept any 4-credit lab science as requirement for Adventure Recreation and Tourism degree program

Summary: Accept any 4-credit lab science instead of BIO120

This change would allow for students to select from various lab science offerings such as BIO130 Human Anatomy and Physiology, BIP112 Marine Biology, or CHY110 Fundamentals of Chemistry instead of requiring them to take BIO120. This will allow students a choice in selecting a science course that best suits their own personal educational goals.
